

Mississippi Revisited.

McKana, October 1, 2023

Mississippi Revisited

(Dream-vision of September 23, 2023, past 2:00AM)

In the last vision, I saw the Mississippi basin flooded, the Great lake water meeting the Gulf water. I saw the widespread devastation, not the details well.

(Original source of the map is given below)

<https://www.pinterest.com/pin/7529524355962654/>

The Lord realized the sketch I drew in the last vision and gave us a correction. This vision clarified that there are some newly formed smaller islands left. The land is not completely submerged under water. The water goes left and right up from the gulf and down from the great lakes leaving some smaller isolated islands fragmented by the quake and the rest of the land submerged under water. The above drawing will say it better. It is by no means perfect but to show the great devastation and the new formations coming.

Take this also to the Lord for the truth.