

A Fresh Start

“The Fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. To fear Me, the Holy God is the start of success. Knowledge of My way of doing things is starting at the beginning of EVERYTHING. I am the Alpha & Omega, the Beginning & the End, the First and the Last.

Why are you so befuddled? Because you are trying to run the race without instructions, without the map of life. No wonder you are falling into sand traps and bunkers on the course. You must begin with Me - Why would you not? Pause and think actually why a person would not start at the Beginning? To cheat, cheaters want to get ahead, be first to the rewards. But you can't complete a thing in good time - figuring, guessing, hustling. Do you know that I always want you to win? Even when that winning is delayed by a seeming “loss”. I have so many virtues that I build into a person's character. But most want microwave success. Gimme more! Gimme now!

I have a perfect plan for each of My creation and I am waiting for agreement from you to do what I envisioned. But My creations fight My wiggly paths; they want to go straight to the penthouse and be served - living the life of Riley. I am deeper than such. Life is meant to be lived, accomplished and overcome; taking the good with the bad, all of it with ME, your Loving Father walking alongside you. How bad is that? Most of you wouldn't know a good father if you saw one, hence My life by faith. Seeing is not believing- Believing is seeing what can not be seen with the eyes, but perceived with a heart of trust.

O pen your heart to Me now. You've tried the others. O pen says ME.

Bye for now - think on these things. Stop rushing for knowledge to be “in the know”. Meditate, consider, reflect, ruminate on My words. These are My thoughts for you and towards you.”

Yours Truly, Papa Doc
